Detailed description

Welcome to your private Robinson Crusoe Club: Turquoise-blue sea, rocks, sand, macchia and pine trees, as far as the eye can reach, are your entertainers here. Like an oasis, the villa "Casadors", renovated from top to bottom, is located in the protected nature area, which covers an unbelievable 300,000 m² (not including the endless blue by your feet). So much space and beauty must of course be shared with others, for example, with the villa "Observatori" next door. There is enough private space for everyone. Even the unpaved driveway (an off-road hire car is recommended) ensures that this dream spot remains dreamlike. Going barefoot into the water, picnicking on the rocks at the lighthouse, walking along the beach to eat or shop – reasons enough to leave the car parked at home as often as possible and switch to full holiday mode. Nothing is more relaxing than letting your gaze drift into the distance from your sunbed – once again enjoy the luxury of feeling unavailable: we'll be off then!!! No TV, no Internet! You play the lead role in your Mallorca holiday video, the sea provides location and sound, and the indoor shots are taken almost exclusively in a single room at ground level. What do you really need to be comfortable during your holiday? A cosy bunk for two, a sofa bed, a table, a fireplace for cool evenings, a small kitchen with a large fridge, a bathroom with shower... and on the open sleeping gallery, also a good place for a mattress for the possible number 3 in your team. Life really can be so weightless! Although there is enough storage room at the house, you can travel with little luggage if you spend most of your time in bikini and swimwear; thanks to so many windows, you won't lose the sun and water out of sight even for a minute of the day. And if you are a solo traveler and you are looking for a place to read, write, contemplate, or to gather strength undisturbed, the villa "Casadors" is the right choice for you. Es Racó de S'Arena - quiet and not so well-developed for tourists - is a beach for people who like to be off the beaten track. The crystal clear water is ideal to go snorkeling and water sport enthusiasts will generally find their special spot in this area. Set up your camp in "Casadors" to go hiking, cycling, horseback riding in the south of Mallorca, to boat hop to small islands, or simply enjoy the dream beaches like Es Trenc. Stroll through Campos and Lluçmajor, drink a café con leche at Bistro Calle Cruz 20 or the historic Colón, eat at the beach of the quiet fishing village of Sa Ràpita in the evening and celebrate the "pura vida" away from the main current. Hardly any other property in our programme exudes this charm and features this unique mix of hippie, simplicity, meditation, and barefoot luxury.

The area, which is freely accessible under the Spanish Coastal Law, is also visited by local people, artists, free-thinkers and insider tourists. Thus, we recommend this property warmly to all those who are looking for these characteristics and at the same time understand that here one pays above all for the location and not for its facilities. The beautiful houses from the 18th and 19th century form an ecological agroturismo: they are fed with energy obtained from sun and wind power. In addition, they use recycled rainwater and the food offered originates from organic farming. The project was awarded the Biosphere certificate as a sustainable agritourism project and was also accepted by the European Union as a SPA (Special Protected Area) and a SCH (Cultural Heritage Site) within the network "Natura 2000", as well as by the Autonomous Community of the Balearic Islands as an ISNA (Natural Areas of Special Interest).
