Location of the Rural Villa in Mallorca

"Ca Na Castell Son Rubi" lies between Selva and Inca, in the north of the island. Thanks to the secluded rural setting, you can enjoy complete peace and quiet whilst still being able to go on great days out. You can experience authentic Mallorcan life in the charming mountain village of Selva, only 1.8 km away; a visit to the leather and wine-producing town of Inca is worthwhile. Alcúdia beach or Playa de Muro are around 28 km away, and hiking-enthusiasts will certainly be excited about being so close to the Tramuntana mountain range.

Detailed description

Pastel-coloured paintwork, wooden window shutters, a refreshing pool in the Mediterranean garden – that's how most people picture a typical Mallorcan villa. And that is exactly what you'll find in "Ca Na Castell Son Rubi" in the north of Mallorca. It's not just the location at the foot of the Tramuntana mountain range that makes it so fantastic, but also the incredible view of this mountain range in the distance. The best place to kick back outside is definitely the well-maintained pool with graded flooring. Dive in, relax on a lie-low and then have a leisurely doze on a sun-lounger beneath a parasol. You hear the sounds of cooking and a faint barbeque scent wafts into your nose – is it that late already? It's almost time to head over to the fixed barbeque with adjoining covered terrace and get cozy with the whole group. A tarmacked road leads right up to the house. No need to spend hour searching – there's plenty of spaces for everyone on the gravel car park behind the villa. And now let's take a look behind the scenes of this 340 m² villa for seven people. There really is plenty of space for everyone. The homely centrepiece is the living room with a comfy leather sofa suite. Classical art, rustic wooden furniture, warm colours – but what really draws the eye is the superb stone wall, making the room seem quaint and natural. A fireplace warms cold feet on less pleasant days and illuminates the room beautifully in the evening. Even modern technology has found its way here into the countryside – as well as a flat-screen TV and an iPod docking station, there's free WiFi too. As soon as you arrive, you'll surely want to send loved ones some photos

- hopefully they won't get too jealous! In the rustic, fully-equipped kitchen, which includes a dishwasher, there's plenty of space to prepare tasty barbeque meals. A few steps lower down, there's also a dining table should the weather put pay to group dinner on the terrace on occasion. "Ca Na Castell Son Rubi" has three bathrooms (one of which is en-suite), two double rooms and a single room. In one, gray shades are paired with striking red accents. Another features matching rose colours. But there's one thing all the bedrooms have in common: fitting accessories and a stylish finish. A walk to Selva or a day's shopping trip to Inca - the choice of where to start won't be easy, as both of these nearby places have their own unique charm. Selva, the church town surrounded by forest and with pretty, narrow streets and a wonderful church, is around 15-20 minutes walk away. Inca is around 2.9 km away - seeing the market on Wednesday is an absolute must, as well as a saunter around the many leather shops. The villa is close to the Ma-2130 country road. Traffic noises can be heard depending on the wind and the weather - but it does mean that other beautiful parts of the island are easy to get to by car. Spending a relaxing day by the beach in Alcúdia or Playa de Muro, less than 28 km away, is rather tempting, isn't it?

The finca was dreamlike...it was a beautiful vacation.

A beautiful finca, centrally located. Everything on the island can be easily reached in day trips. You should be aware that you are here in the country: horses, goats, dogs and roosters (which start crowing at 5 in the morning) can be found in the immediate vicinity. The Finca is very tastefully furnished, artistic pictures hang on the walls and the natural stone floors I want now also

An excellent choice for friends or family who want to be alone. The Finca offers inside and outside enough place to stay. We were three couples, each with their own bedroom and bathroom. The kitchen is open and very well equipped. There are enough fridges and freezers. Outside there is a large table in the shade for breakfast and the rest of the meals. The pool with a view of the mountains is situated directly at it. The existing mosquitoes are provided with sufficient spray, scented candles and power plugs. The host was super friendly and for even the smallest question reachable via WhattsApp. A car is recommended. But we also walked to Selva, but at the busy road.
