Detailed description

It's always a pleasure to present you with another natural stone villa, so beautiful that looks like it should be in a film, in every way just how you imagine a traditional country villa to look, although it was only built in 2004. A palm-lined country road leads you to the gravel parking area and the house. Ancient, gnarled olive trees, chairs under the thatched terrace roof, cosy seating by the natural pond, or amidst the lush palms, rural tranquillity. All of this inspires you to get some baguettes, olives and wine on the table, take a deep breath, and spend your day enjoying the sunshine and doing nothing at all. There's also plenty of space for sun loungers on the 7,000 m² estate. Or how about a glass of champagne in the circular waterfall whirlpool, even if something like that isn't normally part of your lifestyle? The curvy pool with a total length of 16 m is definitely the highlight of "Mirabó Ramonet", so much so that at first you won't even think of the sea. It's like a quiet, blue lagoon in the middle of nowhere; from above you can see how much wide open space there is between this rural idyll and the mountains in the distance. Life inside a villa should of course match this outdoor feeling, and when a country house is advertised, it had better be a country house. You can expect lattice windows, wooden beams, and rustic, even antique furniture, a well-equipped kitchen with a pantry, where you can roll up your sleeves and get to work, even if that only means making a big salad for the BBQ, using fresh ingredients from the market. The fireplace in the dining area keeps you cosy on cooler evenings, the TV and reading corner is just right for four friends; but the story - or legend - behind the little niche altar in the wall is something you're going to have to find out for yourself once you're here. From here, the staircase leads up to the two air-conditioned bedrooms and the large bathroom with a bathtub and a shower - the smaller shower room is conveniently located downstairs. Some couples may re-live the feeling of their honeymoon behind the curtains of the romantic four-poster, even if the children should be right next door. If you prefer having your own mattress, the second bedroom is just right for you. The "modern" underfloor heating is not a traditional feature of a country house, but we are all too happy to forgive this breach of style... Maybe you want to keep your feet warm by walking, which is not implausible, seeing as the hills around Santanyí, Es Carritxó, and S'Alqueria Blanca are reminiscent of Tuscany. A hike of about 2 hours will take you up to the monastery of Puig de Sant Salvador, a pilgrimage site near Felanitx, from which you can not only marvel at the beauty of your holiday destination, but also see the Mallorcan cycling world champion Guillermo Mortimer's jersey, which is displayed there, curiously enough. Fortunately, rural Mallorca has preserved its authenticity, and you can still sit in cafes among locals or find a quiet corner for yourself. And the small coves towards Portopetro or the Caribbean-like natural beach Es Trenc will always have a place just for you (at least in the water), even at the height of the tourist season. ★★★ reviewed by Martin on 06.08.2019

The finca is beautifully situated, the plot is nicely landscaped and the pool is sensational. The finca inside is a little darker and squatter than it looks on the photos, especially the living room and the front bedroom with the two single beds look significantly bigger on the photos. The air conditioning in the bedrooms works well, but it would be worth mentioning that only these rooms are air-conditioned because many fincas are also fully air-conditioned. The just three loungers in the outdoor area have their time behind them, were either broken or already worn out at the hinges. Also there were only two editions and no side table for drinks, etc.. You really would have liked that at this great pool and you were a little disappointed. Washing machine, dishwasher and microwave have worked after some efforts, but are already very old, partly rusted and damaged. Here a renewal would be urgently necessary, in order not to diminish the overall impression. Finally, it should be mentioned that the mobile network is very weak in this area and the WLAN provided has a very poor bandwidth, which is hardly enough for email editing or downloading small attachments. If you have to be reachable at work or have to do some work, this care is unfortunately completely inadequate.

The fincallorca-Team:

Thank you for your review! We are pleased that you have enjoyed the property, the finca and especially the pool. The owner thanks for the suggestions and has already exchanged some things. For the coming season he will replace the loungers in the outdoor area and provide a side table. We would be pleased to welcome you once again in one of our Fincas!

★★★★ reviewed by Roberto on 26.07.2019

Fantastic! The Finca is exactly like it is described on the photos and the video. Everything available and plenty of crockery and glasses there. And it all fits together. We would be kindly received and briefed. There are only two shortcomings in the equipment. It had about 5 coffee machines, but only filter coffee a only small one functioned, resp. had a glass jug. We then got a cafetiera for espresso. The garden furniture should now really be invested. Deck chairs are available, but the mats are partly damaged or one was missing. The garden table and chairs serve the purpose and are suitable. On the table however the glass plate is missing and so the table should be exchanged. But all in all, we enjoyed our holiday and are very happy to come back.

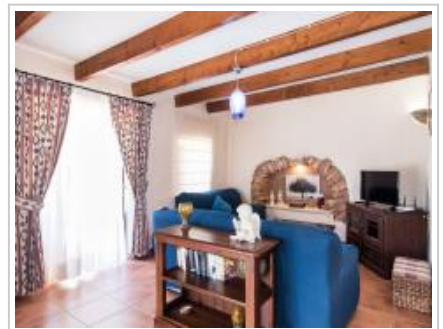

★★★ reviewed by Sonja on 05.07.2019

The Finca has a very beautiful garden and has been lovingly landscaped. The pool is great and of the size suitable for the right swimming. Inside the equipment is upscale. However, significant improvements are needed to the garden furniture, loungers, lounge pads, garden lamps and the whirlpool (massage jets not working). Furthermore, the dishwasher and coffee machine would have to be replaced or adapted to the number of possible persons - a functioning mini coffee machine is definitely too small. All in all, we still felt comfortable and would come back - very nice, German administrator couple.

The fincallorca-Team:

Thank you for your review! The owner appreciates your suggestions and will do his best to check the faulty aspects thoroughly and repair them where necessary. The owner has had the dishwasher checked and it works perfectly. We hope to welcome you once again to the island!
